Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Applicant stated for the record that he respectfully traverses the current rejection in view of Kohda and Angles however, Applicant agreed to consider proposed amendments by the Examiner to overcome the prior art of record. Examiner indicated that amending claim 4 to include additional limitations that embrace the spirit of the following two points would overcome the prior art of record. Point #1, include limitations that specify the server transmits either 1) only the user-selected content or 2) only a provider-selected commercially-sponsored message to the client program for display. Point #2, include limitations which further specify that the provider-selected commercially sponsored message includes, in addition to a commercially sponsored message, HTML and javascript which causes the provider-selected message to be displayed for a limited time period, after which time the browser automatically requests the originally sought user-selected information from the provider's server, as discussed in Applicant's specification pg 15. Applicant was further advised that the inclusion of these two points into claim 4 would overcome the prior art of record assuming an effective priority date of September 5, 1996 however, the current affidavits on record are insufficient for establishing a priority date of September 5, 1996 when these two points are incorporated into claim 4. Applicant was also advised of the Simmons reference (U.S. Patent Number 5,974,451) entered into the record during this interview.
